

AI Community Conference

AICO 2026 Sponsor Package

Our Story: From a Shared Vision to a Global Movement

It started with a simple realization between two friends and Microsoft MVPs: the rapid evolution of Agentic AI and Modern Workplace solutions shouldn't just be discussed in closed circles—it needs to be shared with the world.

Driven by a passion for community and a belief that AI knowledge should be accessible to everyone, we launched the AI Community Conference (AICO). What began as a local initiative has quickly transformed into a mission to host high-impact, technical conferences in cities across the globe.

Our Mission

- Democratize AI Knowledge: Moving beyond the hype to deliver real-world, enterprise-ready AI architecture and strategy.
- Empower Local Leaders: Providing the framework for community leaders to host their own world-class AI events.
- Build a Global Network: Connecting MVPs, experts, and enthusiasts to bridge the gap between human ingenuity and enterprise data.

Join the Movement

We are looking for passionate community leaders to help us scale this vision. Whether you are an MVP, a technical lead, or a community organizer, we invite you to host an AICO event in your city.

Let's spread the knowledge of AI, together.

Why Sponsor?

In 2023–2025, we welcomed over 7,500+ attendees across 16 events in eleven cities, featuring 150+ expert speakers and supported by 30+ global sponsors and community partners — with every conference sold out. Our sponsors were highly satisfied with the success and engagement of our recent events. With limited sponsor booth availability, now is the ideal time to secure your spot and gain premium visibility.

This year, we're offering flexible event formats, hosting conferences that can run as one-day or two-day experiences, depending on the event structure and audience needs. When hosted as a two-day event, the first day features hands-on workshops, while the second day delivers insightful sessions led by industry leaders. Regardless of format, each event offers a valuable opportunity to connect with a highly engaged audience, build meaningful relationships, and choose from a variety of sponsorship packages tailored to your goals.
